Update from Home-Start, Hampshire

Support and friendship for families

Hampshire

Home-Start Hampshire provides practical and emotional support and guidance for both military and civilian families with young children in the area. We train volunteers with parenting experience to offer tailored home-visiting, usually on a weekly basis. They can offer emotional support, direct support to children (including the Home-Start school readiness program called Big Hopes, Big Future), help with parenting / routines, practical help such as budgeting or cooking, information about other local organizations and help to access meetings / services. We also offer a support group for parents with mental health challenges.
