The Learning Zone is now available

Existing users - please check your in box for an email from HTLC which contains the relevant codes to set up your unique learner account.

Accessing the new Learning Zone information

New users - in order to get started, all staff in Early Years settings will need to create a unique learner account. This is a straightforward, once-only step and is described in the step by step guide below.

New bookings

Our new system enables individual users to search, request and book their own learning. You should agree any training with your manager before booking onto HCC training.

Guidance and help

We recognise that any change of this type is likely to generate queries as you become familiar with the new system. To help you there will be a comprehensive guide of How To and help pages on Hantsweb.
