I am now in my seventh year as Early Years leader at Great Binfields Primary School. I work with an experienced and enthusiastic team, who all strive to meet every individual child's needs. We have been very lucky to move into a brand new Early Years unit and this has led us to look a lot at the learning environment. I was especially inspired by Jarmin's Communication Friendly Spaces and have used her ideas and theory to create a rich and purposeful learning space both indoors and out. We have established a strong transition for children starting school as I recognise that the early weeks of school can have a lasting impact on a child's educational experience. I feel that it is very important to keep reviewing my own practise and through doing this ensures that I provide the absolute best opportunities to enable children to succeed and reach their potential.
