Apply spelling patterns and common exception words, taught so far, within writing. (see spelling appendix)	Handwriting: Use diagonal and horizontal strokes that are needed to join letters and understand which letters, when adjacent to one another, are best left un-joined. Handwriting is legible and consistent in size. Writing is appropriately spaced.	C & E	Pupils can work with a partner or small group to plan writing, contributing their own and listening to and building on others' ideas and record them in notes or pictorial form for later use. Writing is clear in purpose and incorporates mostly relevant content to inform and interest the audience. A viewpoint is established but may not always be consistent or maintained. Events or ideas are developed using some appropriate vocabulary. Expansion of detail / events may be supported through vocabulary (technical, vivid language) or through explanation.	Compound sentences with co-ordinating conjunctions: and, but, or, so, for, nor, yet Word families for meaning, word class and spelling: solve, solution, solving, solved, solver, dissolved, soluble, insoluble Prepositions: next to, by the side of, in front of, during, though, throughout, because of Expressing time, place and cause using conjunctions: when, before, after, while, so, because Knowing when to use 'a' and 'an'
			TS&O	Organise writing into logical chunks and write a coherent series of linked sentences for each. Writing is correctly signposted eg. non-narrative - an appropriate main heading and suitable subheadings; narrative- setting, character and plot. Adverbials, connectives and pronouns may link sentences, paragraphs or sections.
		SS&P		Pupils can write an increasing range of sentences with more than one clause using conjunctions taught so far. Some sentence variation through sentence type (statement, question, exclamation, command), length and structure (simple, compound, complex) Appropriate choice of nouns and pronouns create clarity, cohesion and avoid repetition within writing. Select appropriate tense for a task with verb forms adapted; some variation of modals to express possibility. Full stops, capital letters, exclamation marks and question marks mostly accurate; commas used in lists. Confident and consistent use of inverted commas to punctuate direct speech.

See English Appendix 1 Link HIAS Spelling Pathway document	Pupil can correctly form and join most letters in accordance with the school's agreed style.	C & E	Writing is clear in purpose with viewpoint consistently maintained (for example, word choice indicates child's viewpoint on a character or an issue) Identifies and uses key organizational features of a shared text in their own writing Selects the most relevant information, key vocabulary and most suitable ideas to plan own narrative and non-narrative writing Narrative writing interests the reader through the development of a coherent plot, characters and settings Description or detail in both narrative and non-narrative is expanded through an appropriate and precise range of vocabulary. Additional detail and explanation are included. Related information is clustered logically and engages the reader through appropriate headings and relevant sub-headings for each paragraph (if appropriate) Pupils can usually and accurately assess the effectiveness of their writing and make improvements	Possessive apostrophes for regular singular and plural nouns Using either a pronoun or the noun in sentences for cohesion and to avoid repetition Prepositions Possessive pronouns Using inverted commas where the speech is preceded by the speaker: Fronted adverbials followed by a comma: prepositional phrases starting with an adjective and ending in '-ed' Specific determiners: their, whose, this, that, these, those, which Informal and formal language
		TS&O	Narrative and non-fiction texts are paragraphed with an appropriately signaled opening and ending. Nouns and pronouns are selected to create cohesion, avoid repetition and achieve clarity. A wider range of appropriate conjunctions, adverbs and prepositions are used to express time, place and cause, creating cohesion within and between sentences.		Verbs – Past perfect continuous: 'had' + past participle + '-ing'
		SS&P	Variation in sentence structure includes simple, compound and complex structures Pupils can proof read and amend their writing checking for, for example, repetitious language, verb/subject disagreement or lapses in tense Ranges of subordinating conjunctions are used at the beginning and within the sentences. Tense choice is appropriate to task and used consistently with few lapses. Pupils can use punctuation, as indicated in English Appendix 2, accurately and consistently

		SS&P	Usually select appropriate grammar, understanding how such choices and change and enhance meaning. Usually write using tense consistently and correctly (including modal verbs) and write using deliberate changes of tense for effect in narrative, checking for these when editing: e.g. in flashbacks, letters and interviews. Draw on a repertoire of sentence structures, including simple, compound, complex to meet their purpose. Manipulate the order of elements within a sentence e.g. fronted adverbials, subordinate clauses, embedded relative clauses.

Spelling

Suggested core spelling curriculum:

in line with the statutory Primary English programme of study 2014+

This curriculum map organises the compulsory spelling rules/patterns as well as the compulsory lists of words to learn across KS2 in to half termly objectives. Its strands (below) are based on linguistic principles of how words are built up from either sounds or morphemes (chunks of meaning.) Some words in English do not entirely follow either of these principles and so other spelling cues would need to be used to learn them.

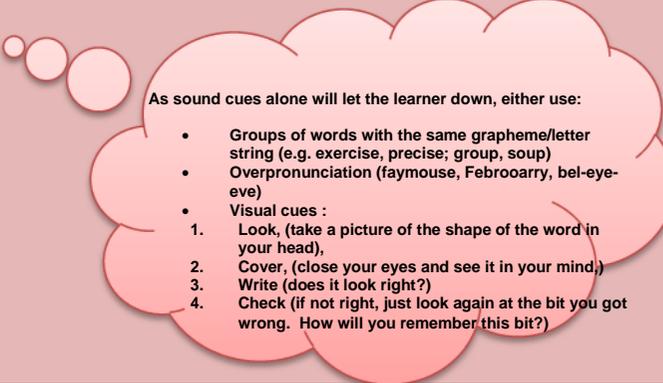

Spelling principle s used as strands	 Phonemic principles, based on hearing sounds and knowing grapho-phonemic correspondence
	 High frequency, common irregular or commonly mis-spelt words that need practice for automaticity
	 Morphemic principles, based on seeing chunks of meaning (compound words, word roots and affixes)

It is vital that teachers build in ‘How to learn a spelling,’ self-help lessons that can be based around the spelling patterns or particular words with which a child or group of children are having difficulty. These lessons will build a repertoire of learning CUES (see p.5,) give time for children to reflect on their miscues in writing and act on personal – or small group - spelling goals.

Additionally, where there are gaps in this curriculum, children can learn how to build and spell topic related words, reflecting on etymology (word root or origin) and deciding on the most effective learning cues for them.
