HAMPSHIRE
COUNTRYSIDE
SERVICE

Distance: 5 miles

Start: White hill Car Park

Kingsclere has varied countryside including open downland, steep slopes, small fields and woodland. This walk is not for the faint hearted. It has some steep gradients but is worth trying for the beautiful views; about 5-miles.

Directions

Starting from the car park/picnic area at White Hill, turn left along Wayfarer's Walk (signposted) and then left again over a stile following the path along the field edge towards the wireless mast.

Turn right at the double stile and take the next left through the metal gate and down steep slope to stile. Turn right following fence.

Turn left through the trees, over a stile and follow the steep path up to the gallops on Cannon Heath Down. Turn sharp left through wooden gate and along the Down to the car park.
