*Baseline - We have taken the past five years data (2006/07 to 2010/11), removed the years with the best and worst performance, and then taken the mean average of the remaining three years. The one exception to this is casualties, where the change in the recording categories means that we could only use 2009/10 and 2010/11 - we have included the projected outturn for the current year to provide three years from which to take an average.
