The screenshot shows a web browser displaying a newspaper article from The Daily Telegraph. The article is titled "Appalling' fall in school standards" and is written by Simon Johnson, the Tish Political Editor. The article discusses a decline in educational standards in Scotland, particularly in mathematics, following the SNP's election in May. It mentions that the Scottish Survey of Literacy and Numeracy (SSLN) found that the proportion of primary four youngsters meeting the expected standards in mathematics fell by 10 percentage points between 2011 and 2015. The article also notes that the attainment gap had grown to 22 points by P7, with the poorest youngsters performing significantly worse than those in the wealthiest areas. A large photograph of a woman with long dark hair, wearing a striped shirt and a dark scarf, is visible on the right side of the article. The browser interface includes a search bar, a 'Sign Out' button, and a 'Table of Contents' link. The browser's address bar shows 'The Daily Telegraph' and the date '1 Jun 2016'.
